

Damian Mason

BUSINESS HUMOR with a point.

“Observational comedy and hilarious stories with a simple message about life and business.”

Damian Mason has been entertaining audiences since 1994. He refined his comedic skills in clubs, on radio, television and film, and on stage where he has performed at over 1000 corporate and association meetings. A former sales rep for a Fortune 500 company, Damian understands the need for smart, pertinent comedy in the corporate meeting market.

“Here are just a few comments I received from our attendees:

Very Entertaining - Great Fun!
Best we ever Had!

We need to laugh more in this business,
keep it up!

*Thank you for exceeding our expectations.
You were easy to work with and I will forever remember our attendees laughing and enjoying the evening”*

– Judy Tallant, Helena Chemical

Damian combines sharp wit and comedic timing with a high energy delivery to make your audience laugh as well as think. He tells outrageously funny stories about travel, work, business, family, and everyday life.

Damian's humor relates to any audience, regardless of the demographic. His keen observations and amusing real life experiences illustrate points about change, customer service, sales, and enjoying life's work.

How it works: Damian's program is perfect for any time slot that demands humor. Simply introduce Damian, then sit back and enjoy the show. Its clean, feel good comedy with a universal message.
